ABSTRACT

A narrative summary of program accomplishments, tabular data detailing program expenditures, and modifications of the negotiated contract between the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Oklahoma State Department of Education comprise the 1981 annual report of the Johnson-O'Malley (JOM) Indian Education Program in Eastern Oklahoma, which provides academic programs and educational support monies for eligible Indian students. Expenditures under the 1980-1981 contract totaled $2,532,561.52 to serve 15,872 students. A total of 189 schools in 37 counties received funds for educational programs. Three workshops were conducted in 1981. Local parent committee workshops and inservice training sessions for the JOM home/school and teacher aides were held at Northeastern State University and East Central State University. For the third consecutive year, the JOM Development Training Programs for Indian Youth were held at Northeastern, East Central, and Southeastern Universities, during which 126 students participated in 6 days of intensive leadership training. Exhibits detail program expenditures: by counties; for special programs and educational support by schools within each county; for special projects/cooperative programs; and for training workshops and state committee meetings, program administration, and instruction. Also included are the names of JOM staff and map locations of Eastern Oklahoma tribes. (CM)

COVER

The cover illustration represents the emblem in the center of the Oklahoma State flag, which is an Osage warrior's buckskin shield, decorated with pendant eagle feathers. Across the face of the shield runs the red man's calumet, or pipe of peace symbol, and the olive branch. The shield implies defensive or protective warfare. The small crosses on the shield are the Indian's graphic sign for stars which indicate lofty ideals or a purpose for high endeavor. The important symbols, however, are the calumet and the olive branch. These override the shield, the symbol of war, and represent a predominate love of peace by a united people and the union of the Indian Territory and Oklahoma Territory into the one great State of Oklahoma.

FOREWORD

The Johnson-O'Malley Indian Education Program in Eastern Oklahoma is administered by the State Department of Education, Johnson-O'Malley Section, as authorized by the Johnson-O'Malley Act of 1936. The program is operated in accordance with the provisions of a contract between the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior, and the Oklahoma State Department of Education.

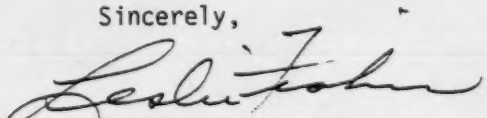
The Johnson-O'Malley contract has been implemented by the State Department of Education since 1947, making this the Thirty-fourth Annual Report of Johnson-O'Malley Indian Education in Eastern Oklahoma. This report has been prepared by the Johnson-O'Malley Indian Education Section to comply with State Contract No. G00C14203384.

As a department, we extend our appreciation to the Muskogee Area Office for the cooperation and assistance we have received in meeting the educational needs of our Indian children. This partnership is an important link in the success of the program.

The entire staff of the State Department of Education is available to render technical assistance and other services. We desire maximum involvement of tribal leaders, Indian organizations, parent committees, public schools, and others, so educational opportunities for Indian students may be enhanced.

Please call on our staff in the State Department of Education if we may be of assistance. We would be most happy to serve in any possible way.

Sincerely,



Leslie Fisher
State Superintendent

N A R R A T I V E

Each year since 1947 this report has been published for the purpose of summarizing activities and accomplishments of Indian education in Oklahoma. For the thirty-fourth time, the Johnson-O'Malley Section of the State Department of Education has successfully fulfilled its contractual obligation in administering the Johnson-O'Malley Program in the public schools in Eastern Oklahoma.

The Johnson-O'Malley Program is designed to provide academic programs and educational support monies for eligible participants. The primary goal of the program is to expand educational opportunities for eligible Indian students, one-fourth or more degree Indian blood.

The 1980-81 Johnson-O'Malley contract totaled $2,532,561.52. The amount of money distributed to the schools for supplemental programs and educational support items was based on three factors: (1) the number of eligible Indian students, (2) the financial need of the school district, and (3) the educational needs of the Indian students. The expenditures of contract funds are reflected in Exhibits A through F.

In FY 1981, 15,872 eligible Indian students were served by the Johnson-O'Malley Program. A total of 189 schools in 37 counties in Eastern Oklahoma received funds for educational programs.

The Johnson-O'Malley Section is composed of a director, administrative officer, program development officer, administrative assistant, two secretaries, and nine professional field coordinators. The coordinators live and work in areas with a high population of Indian students in Eastern Oklahoma. They provide technical assistance to the schools, act as counselors to Johnson-O'Malley students, are liaison people between the school and the Indian community, and monitor Johnson-O'Malley Programs in the schools.

An Eastern Oklahoma Johnson-O'Malley State Indian Education Committee was formed in December, 1974. The State Committee is elected by local Indian parents to provide information obtained from the Indian communities in their regions to help in planning, developing, and implementing the Johnson-O'Malley Program for Eastern Oklahoma. Also, local Indian parent committees are elected in keeping with P.L. 93-638, Indian Self-Determination and Involvement Act. The local committees work cooperatively with school administrators in identifying special needs of Indian children and developing programs to meet these needs. The local committees must approve all programs before implementation.

Consistent with previous years, three workshops were conducted in 1981. Local parent committee workshops were held at Northeastern State University, Tahlequah, Oklahoma, and East Central State University, Ada, Oklahoma. In-service training sessions were also held at these two Universities for the Johnson-O'Malley home/school and teacher aides.

For the third consecutive year, the Johnson-O'Malley Leadership Development Training Programs for Indian Youth were held at three State Universities in Eastern Oklahoma--Northeastern, East Central and Southeastern. One hundred twenty-six Johnson-O'Malley Indian students participated in six days of intensive leadership training.

The Johnson-O'Malley Program continues to move forward and progress with new innovative programs being implemented each year. The local Indian education committees and school administrators are to be praised for the role they play in program development.

Our appreciation is extended to the Local and State Indian Committes, School Administrators, and the Muskogee Area Office, Bureau of Indian Affairs, for the support we receive in the administration and implementation of the Johnson-O'Malley Program in Eastern Oklahoma. The cooperation received from these groups is necessary for providing quality educational experiences for Indian children in the public schools.
